Healthy Living Tip

I have shared healthy living tips and goals for the last few months and each one is different. We have discussed nutrition by eating proper food and limiting candy, exercising and moving out bodies. This month I want every to try to engage with family and friends to add to your healthy living-call a friend up, make a play date to hang out and play board games. Social time with friends and family is great for mental health. Have fun hanging out with your friends! -Elli Fresquez
